SUMMARY

I am a patient, intuitive, empathetic, responsible, resilient, innovative, and detail-oriented individual with a capacity to go beyond the average in fulfilling goals and objectives set. My island of epiphanous ideas has led to expansive solutions to crucial problems. I have conducted extensive research and developed a comprehensive proposal for the commercial production of a local Nigerian beverage. In addition, I have also researched and created prototypes, designs, and proposals for a Safety Matches manufacturing company in Nigeria. As a leader and team player, I have a progressive background in people management. My belief in the ideals that everything and everyone has their own truth if you can only see it from their point of view, drives my critical thinking and problem-solving skills. I aspire to be a researcher, businessman, artist, and philanthropist. My ability to learn quickly and adapt to new concepts and work environments allows me to achieve my goals.
