

Sara Conti PA-C

9 West 31st Street, Apt. 40E, NY, NY 10001 | 413-668-5551 | Saraconti41492@gmail.com

WORK EXPERIENCE

NYU Langone Medical Center

Electrophysiology Physician Assistant (1/2021 –present)

- Independently obtain central venous access with sheath placement
- Suture closure of intra-op pacemaker incisions including deep, intermediate and superficial layers
- Placement of intra-cardiac catheters
- Efficient in ultrasound including bedside POCUS exam to rule out pericardial effusion
- Vascade placement for venous access closure.
- First assisting during procedures such as atrial fibrillation/tachycardia/ventricular tachycardia/PVC ablations, along with pacemaker placement.
- Management of patients in PACU including medication management, post-op complications, post-op education, and patient discharge
- Management of patients in an office setting including pre-op work up, post-op visit, routine and urgent phone calls, and medication prior authorizations
- Pacemaker and ICD interrogations, and reprogramming for MRI

NYP Weil Cornell Medical Center

CTICU Physician Assistant at (3/2018 – present)

- Immediate post-op care of cardiothoracic surgery patients including coronary artery bypass, thoracoabdominal aortic aneurysm repairs, ascending aortic aneurysm and arch repairs under deep hypothermic arrest, VA/VV ECMOs, LVADs, TAVRs, esophagostomy, pneumonectomy and lobe resections
- Daily rounding with the surgical and ICU teams including daily lab, radiology and order review, along with development of daily assessment and plans
- Interpretation of hemodynamic monitoring including cardiac rhythms, PA pressures, central venous pressures, and arterial line waveform with titration of pressors and inotropic support
- Procedural skills including arterial line placement, dobhoff/NGT placement, ultrasound guided IVs, blood cultures, vascath and triple lumen catheters under supervision
- Removal of IABPs, epicardial wires, and chest tubes
- Experience with patients experiencing post-op cardiac arrest, sepsis, seizures, and respiratory failure

LICENSES AND CERTIFICATIONS

Licensed Physician Assistant in NY: 021881

DEA Certified

AHA Certifications:

- ACLS Certified (2021)
- BLS Certified (2021)

EDUCATION

Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences Worcester

- Masters in Physician Assistant Studies (December 2017)

University of Massachusetts Amherst

- Bachelors of Public Health Sciences (May 2014)