PERSONAL PROJECTS

- Encryption Decryption GUI Tool using Python (03/2021 - 03/2021)

It provides cryptographic recipes to python developers to secure a data. In Encryption process it translate the plain text data into something that appears to be random and meaningless(cipher text). and in Decryption process it translate the cipher text into plaintext

Calculator with GUI using Python (04/2021 - 04/2021)

We Frequently use built-in programs like calculators without thinking about how they were designed. The end goal of learning to program is to solve real-world problems and the best way to do so is by working on projects and putting your knowledge to use.
