Initial contact with Dr. Pandey

Dr. Pandey is seeking part-time roles in the New York area. She would prefer to avoid working weekends and nights as she has children, and such a schedule would not be conducive to their needs and best interests. However, she is open to considering any opportunities at this time as she has been out of clinical practice in the United States. She is seeking to return to clinical practice after being away for family needs but has maintained her license and board certification.

Dr. Pandey is open to going through any necessary or offered refresher courses to ensure the needs of the organization are being met to their fullest potential. She is eager to discuss positions in the New York area and can be reached through phone call or email. From there, she is happy to coordinate additional meetings as needed, whether virtual or in-person.
